Masterclass in Reviewing

Plain English Foundation's 1-day Masterclass in Reviewing will give you a systematic approach for reviewing your team's work and giving feedback.

We illustrate best practice principles of assessing other people's work with real-world samples using our reviewing system.

This system clarifies which edits add value and which are personal preference. It also saves you time and helps you avoid becoming a co-author.

Reviewing in stages

| A writing standard | Learn the difference between editing and rewriting, and where to start in assessing a document. |
| Content | Assess the clarity of the content and how well the writer has structured and laid out their material. |
| Expression | Check the wording meets plain language standards and review the key elements of style. |
| Feedback | Use the reviewing system to give effective feedback to the writer. |
